Report on Patrols:

Mt. Lemmon is a small loyal patrol at a small resort totally dependent on the weather. They have had no season so far this year following a short season last year. The patrol is made up of a good mix of ages, most all of them with good skills. Recruiting is difficult in the desert, but they work at it.

Sunrise is a good size patrol at a moderate size resort on a Native American Reservation. New management at the resort instituted some new policies regarding patroller benefits that has upset many. Patrol Director Steve Simi is doing an admirable job of trying to restore health to the patrol. They recruit locally from the small mountain towns that are nearby, and from the Phoenix Valley.

Snowbowl: They remain an all pro resort with one member registered as a National. We are hoping when and if they expand they will see the benefit of bringing more Nationals on Board.

GOALS FOR COMING or REMAINING SEASON:

Mt. Lemmon: Keep them well trained, going strong, and pray for snow.

Sunrise: Work with Steve and support him in revitalizing the patrol.

Snowbowl: Keep the door open for when the opportunity for greater involvement is there.

ISSUES and RESOLUTIONS:

Mt. Lemmon: Their Patrol Representative had health issues for most of the season, but is doing well now.

Sunrise: Things will get even better here as we have a Patrol rep. that is a communicator.

I'm looking forward to a long time coming Region meeting this May. I do have a couple names finally to replace me, since I am termed out.

Respectfully Submitted
Curt Grube - AZ Region Director
